Course Watering

With this recent heat wave expected to continue into next week and the parkland layout of the Harvest Golf Club which includes 72 tee boxes, 21 greens averaging 6500 sq/ft and over 1,000,000 sq/ft of fairways, hand watering must be performed daily to manage turf hydration and ultimately playability. Over this past week and continuing through August, starting at 5am our maintenance staff will be hand watering any hydrophobic areas (many throughout the golf course). It is inevitable that some of the hand watering may have to be performed in playing areas. We respectfully ask for your cooperation in allowing our crew to perform this demanding and tedious work.

Automated irrigation through our existing system is performed nightly with each sprinkler head cycle running upwards of 9 minutes per zone. The Harvest Golf Club sprawls over 165 acres and requires wall to wall irrigation coverage, with no forest, ravines or waste area which is often seen on other golf courses. Irrigation starts at 7pm nightly before completing at 9am the following day (15 hours long). The limited water pressure provided by our aging system makes this entire irrigation cycle much longer during these extreme and ongoing climatic conditions. Once installed, the new irrigation system will be able to complete its cycle in half the time due to increased water pressure being drawn from the retaining pond between #5 and #9 fairway. This type of coverage should allow for more complete coverage and ultimately better visual presentation when temperatures rise above 33 degrees for any extended amount of time.

Thank you very much in advance for keeping our workers safe at all times while this heatwave lasts.
