On Course Updates

We are pleased to report that the fairway and green aeration were completed as scheduled on Wednesday, October 13th. Although fairway topdressing will be ongoing and should be fully completed by Tuesday, October 19th, the process isn't expected to cause any play disruption.

Course Aeration / Improvement

As you may be already aware, contaminated sand material was removed from six bunkers on three different holes. This material was utilized to expand the tee surface on holes number 6 and 11. Both tee complexes were resodded by Thursday, October 14th. This should allow for sufficient germination before the first snow, hoping to put these new playing surfaces into play by May 1st, 2022. All tee markers on holes #6 & 11 have been positioned to the forward tee locations until further notice to protect the new sod. We respectfully ask our members to avoid walking on the freshly laid sod. Otherwise, we believe these changes will improve tee conditions in the season while introducing different play characteristics in the process while making these holes slightly more interesting.

Sod in the six bunkers was laid over one week ago and is already rooting. The following process this fall will be to apply herbicide. In the spring, sand will be reintroduced so that bunkers may be introduced into play early next season.

Thank you for your patience during this fall maintenance/improvement period.

Respectfully,

Irrigation Shut Down

With irrigation shut down in the southeast Kelowna corridor, on-course washrooms will close for the season effective Tuesday, October 19th. Fall irrigation pressurization will also begin on the same date and is expected to be completed by the end of the week. Please be reminded that this process, while necessary and unavoidable, will cause on-course noise disruption. Irrigation pressurization is also an integral part of the annual fall maintenance program. Thank you once more for your understanding during this critical maintenance process.

Respectfully,
